The House resumed the consideration of the contested election case of Swinjer vs. An-

Committee on Bleetions for further investigation.

Mr. Dawes, of Mass., said the contest had now seen in progress over a year. So the the contestant and the sitting member had the opportunity allowed to all such cases under the rule to present the grounds of their contest within sixty days. The examination before the committee was full and fair, and the sitting member never intimated a charge of divloyalty against the contestant. He was saked if he had a charge of disloyalty against the nontestant, and he said he had not.

Mr. Wilson had no disposition to prevent the contestant from speaking if he desired to do so. He thought the very fact that the Election Committee had not investigated the question of disloyalty was a reason why the case should he recommitted.

Mr. Schenck, of Ohio, from the Committee of Ways and Means, reported back the Senate
Indig bill with sundry amendments.
The omendments proposed strike out the section providing for bonds of three classes,
and provides for one long bond to run for 40 years at 3.65 interest annually. The words
"other than the existing 5 per centum bonds," are stricken out of the first section, and this allows the new bonds to be exchanged for all classes of United States bonds. The section is further amended to provide that the issues shall not exceed $750,000,000. The 3d section of the Senate bill in relation to gold contracts is stricken out, and a section is inserted providing for the conversion of greenbacks into bonds or vice versa. A section is also added providing that the tax on incomes arising from interest on bonds or other securities of the United States shall be collected when the interest is paid and in like money in which the coupons are paid.

A number of other amendments were offered to the bill, but not read, and the bill and amendments were ordered to be printed.

He thought it an abanding to the first the said that the said that he was a part of the treaty power, but the House had so directed and he sowed in submission.

Mr. Williams, alluding to a remark made by Mr. Stevens a few days ago, asked an explanation of what he meant when he said he wanted all creation submarked under the territory of the United States.

Mr. Stevens had no recollection now of making such a remark, but if he had done so he meant that he desired that all creation should be a free as we are, and he desired that we should be freer than we now are; and we would be more free when the doctrine of universal suffrage would be secured universal liberty.

After farther amendment, the bill was passed.

Mr. Sherman, from the Committee on Rinance, reported House joint resolution to extend the time for the collection of the direct tax in the insurpretionary States until Jane 1, 1869. Passed.

Mr. Trambull, from the conference committee on the bill to authorise the tem porary supplying of racancies is Executive Departments, made a respect, which was concurred in.

At one o'clock the Indian appropriation bill was taken up, when Mr. Connew moved to postpone it and to take up the special order, being the bill for the protection of the rights of American citizens abroad.

Mr. Morrill, of Mains, thought the appropriation bill had better be proceeded with.

Mr Conness said both the parties in this chamber were committed to the passage of the bill. The Democratic and Republican parties had both planks in their platforms in reference to the rights of naturalized citizens were only a deluzion. At this very monent some of our caturalized citizens were lying in foreign dungeons.

10 minutes before 5, and then took a recess till 7:30 o'clock.

Mr. Hendricks entered a motion to recall the bill restoring to political rights estain persons in the Southern States, he having learned that it removes political disabilities from Radiesl members of the Georgia Legislature, but not from their opponents. He wished to have it reconsidered, that these unjust discriminations might be corrected.

The Indian Appropriation bill was then takes up and considered until the hour of adjoarnment.

The House resumed the consideration of the contested election case of Swissler vs. Anderson, and Mr. Benjamin continued his remarks.

In the course of his remarks, Mr. Benjamin charged disloyally upon the contestant.

Mr. Wilson, of lows, said that in view of the charges made by Mr. Benjamin, he would move that the case be resommitted to the Committee on Elections for further investigation.
